AUTOISTS CARELESS IN WESTERLY

Become Less Observant of Laws as Season Advances Champlin's Case Continued and Bonds Fixed at $3,500 -Lumber Rack Collapsed.

As is the unexplained custom in Westerly as the summer season advances, the automobilists become less observant of the automobile laws, and this custom is not confined to the summer visitors at Watch Hill and other nearby resorts, but to the townspeople, some of them, who operate automobiles. As a rule, the operators at the opening of the summer season, show by their acts that they have knowledge of the laws and studiously conform thereto. But as time goes on they become careless, which becomes contageous and extends to those who operate automobiles in Westerly after the summer people have departed. Machines are run with cut-outs wide open at excessive speed, and more smoke is ejected than have departed. Machines are run with cut-outs wide open, at excessive speed, and more smoke is ejected than is necessary and becomes very objec-tionable. Nearly all these violators of the laws have been notified that their unlawful actions are known to the police and that a repetition means arrest and prosecution.

Chief Brown says that the police despartment is not required to notify the automobilists that they have violated the laws, but he considered it but fair to give the offenders timely warning.

Now that the warning period has expired, and the police have been instructed to strictly enforce the automobilists.

Increasing Interest Shown in Meetings -Annual Meeting of Willimantic Camp Association-Rev. G. G. Serivener Elected President.

Despite the hot, muggy dogdays weather the meetings go on at the camp with increasing interest.

The Tuesday evening sermon by Dr.-iNinde was of the old fashioned, ortatory, camp meeting type, and was followed by a specially interesting testimony meeting in which a large number took part. Annual Meeting of the Willimantic

Camp Meeting Association. The annual meeting of the Willimantic Camp Meeting Association was eld at 9 o'clock yesterday forencon at the Niantic house on Wesley Circle. Rev. G. G. Scrivener, the district superintendent, occupied the chair. The minutes of the several meetings of the executive committee held since the last annual meeting were then read by the secretary, Rev. F. C. Baker. These minutes were ratified, approved and confirmed by the association's vote. The district superintendent by vote appointed as nominating committee, B. B. Gardner, New London; Mrs. F. H. Bushnell, Norwich Town; and Rev. W. E. Kugler of Hockannum.

A. R. Newell, secretary of the cottage holders' meeting of day before yesterday read the list of delegates to this meeting. The several suggestions made by the cottage holders as to sanitation and resolutions appreciative of the good work of the association and its care-taker were read. The annual meeting of the Willimantion and its care-taker were read.

The treasurer's report was then read and approved.

Financial Report

The following report, presented by the treasurer, Rev. E. M. Anthony, of Jewett City, showed the finances of the association in good condition. The cottage tax mentioned at the end of the report is not paid in till this week for the most part and will overbalance the deficit of $98.10, thus leaving the society out of debt and with a small surplus. ods such as obtain at Northfield, 'Mass., and elsewhere.

Dr. Edwin A. Blake gave his second Bible address on "Nuggets of Gold from an Old Mine", at 10 a. m., in the auditorium. Although the sun was oppressively hot the breeze blowing through the grove and under the wide-spreading roof of the auditorium made it comfortable. Dr. Blake's special theme was "The Poetry of the Bible." He talked interestingly of the antiquity of poetry, and said that the Bible ought to be studied in the schools as a literary classic. With the Hebrews, as with other nations, the literature began with poetry. The Book of Psalms was the old Hebrew Hymnal, and was divided into five Hymnal, and was divided into five books, and closing with a dexology. The doctor concluded by citing sever-al poetical passages taken from the various books of the Bible.

The service was in the auditorium.
Songs 123, 36, 7 and 64 were sung from "The Gospel Message" and 189 from hymnal. Rev. J. H. Buckey of Rockville read the scripture lesson and Rev. A. H. Withey, of Old Mystic offered prayer. The preacher was Rev. E, S. Ninde, pastor of Matthewson St. church, Providence, R. I. His text was Matthew 27:2.2. "What shall I do with Jesus?" It was a strong sermon. This is an intensely personal question. We cannot lose the individual in the mass. Would you crucify Christ? You cry out, no, no. Yet you crucify him by ignoring him.
